I'm originally from Long Island, and live in Ohio. I recently stumbled across your bagels at the Anderson's General Store, and purchased; the quality and taste remind me of an authentic New York bagel! After finding your bagels, I will not be a long-term customer! It is because the store I found them in will soon be going out of business. If there is another convenient local store that sells your bagels, I will continue to purchase. Let me know which stores sell your bagels in the Central Ohio region. Thank you.
