Dear Bruce, Garrett and Bill,

I'm a Jersey girl and I KNOW great bagels. Original Bagels are the best. The quality and perfection of your bagels are only exceeded by the generosity of your spirit. Thank you so much for providing 400 bagels for The New York City Congenital Heart Walk on Sunday October 15th, 2017.

Congenital heart defects are the #1 birth defect in the country affecting 1 in 100 babies born. The Congenital Heart Walk is an ongoing national effort between the Adult Congenital Heart Association (ACHA) and The Children's Heart Foundation (CHF). In 2017, more than 16,000 walkers will gather in more than 30 cities across the United States with the goal of raising much needed funds to benefit cutting-edge congenital heart defect research, patient/professional education programs, and advocacy initiatives.

It was a perfect Autumn day for our community to gather together and support one another. We were a passionate crowd of close to 500 people; infants, kids, adults, doctors, nurses, families and heart warriors all putting one foot in front of the other to move forward in our quest to fight congenital heart defects. Your bagels not only fueled us but NOURISHED our passion for this fight.

Once our tallies are complete I am sure we will raise close to $100,000.00 in NYC alone. Your generosity is immeasurable and we are grateful for your partnership, your passion and compassion.

Kindest Regards and Thanks,

Aliza Marlin
